Security
Specialist (Europe and Eurasia)

Comment : Alexander von Lingen, Chairman, EQUIPEUROPA,

Moderation: Mrs. Annette Godart – van der Kroon

About the Speaker: Dr. Robert M. Cutler is Fellow, Canadian Global Affairs Institute: Senior Research Fellow, Beyond The Horizon International Security Studies Group (Brussels); and Practitioner Member, Institute for Complexity and Innovation, University of Waterloo (Canada). Educated at MIT and The University of Michigan, he expanded – after 20 years in leading universities in Canada, France, Russia, Switzerland and the United States – into policy analysis and consulting, foremost as a specialist in Energy Geo-economics and International Security in Europe and Eurasia. He consults to international institutions, governments and the private sector on policy issues, leading research teams and producing briefings and analytical bulletins. He has a strong online presence and has published numerous articles in academic journals and the specialized press (for example, New Europe), besides serving on policy-review editorial boards, executive committees of policy research organizations and the like.

About the Topic:

In view of the meeting held 6 April between Azerbaijan's president Ilham Aliyev and Armenia's prime minister Nicol Pashinyan in Brussels, facilitated by the good offices of Charles Michel, Robert M. Cutler will address the current situation in the South Caucasus between Azerbaijan and Armenia, and the role of the European Union in peace-building.
